

CALL FOR ABSTRACTS: NEUROPATHOLOGY SPECIAL ISSUE OF VETERINARY PATHOLOGY

Veterinary Pathology is currently soliciting proposals for manuscripts to be included in a special issue focused on neuropathology. Veterinary Pathology welcomes proposals covering any aspect of veterinary and comparative neuropathology, including papers focused on neoplastic, infectious, developmental, and degenerative diseases that involve any veterinary species or animal models of human disease. Proposals for review papers and original articles including novel case series are welcome.

Brief proposals describing the potential manuscript must be submitted to the one of the guest editors listed below by February 1, 2024.

Please email proposals or address questions to the guest editors:
